

Spy Games: Cracking the Code!
The HCFWI Science Lunch, Lyndhurst Community Centre, main Car Park, Lyndhurst SO43 7NY

Crack into the world of codes and ciphers, from Second World War huts at Bletchley Park to 21st century students' online national Cipher Challenge.

We have two speakers who will introduce us to the scientific world of cryptography (code-breaking to you and me!). You will be introduced the Cipher Challenge that is teaching and challenging students today to decipher sophisticated encryption challenges and then take a step back to Bletchley Park and the code-breaking that took place during the Second World War. It will be an interactive day of talks, activities and lunch. No previous experience necessary, but you may need a pen!
